SPILLING THE BEANS... On Early Intervention

Jumping Jelly Beans is proud to advocate for early intervention care. Parents, did you know that your baby's brain is quickly soaking up information at all times? According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, babies brains are the most adaptable to learning in the first 3 years of life. Early intervention is intervention in the areas of language, physical, occupational (basic life skills), and overall developmental abilities. By name, early intervention is just that, an intervention early on in your child's life to help them learn and grow in a functional way.

What are some ways to know if your child is a candidate for early intervention? If you have any concerns about your child's development you can contact your doctor and set up an appointment to discuss your options. You can also refer to www.cdc.gov/FindEI for more information. Another great resource is the CDC's free milestone tracker mobile app. You can go to www.cdc.gov and search "CDC Free Milestone Tracker App" in the search bar. Follow the prompts to download on your phone!

Jumping Jelly Beans offers speech and language, physical, occupational, and developmental therapies for the ages of birth-18. We specialize in early intervention! Please contact us for all your early intervention needs!

SPILLING THE BEANS... On Our Therapy Staff

JJB is excited to announce that we have added several new therapists to our staff! Jumping Jelly Beans has also been able to introduce Developmental Therapy services. We currently have three Developmental Therapists: Julie LaRose, Tipton Boling (part time) and Meshell Gipson (part time). We have one new Occupational Therapist: Reagan Avrit. Our Speech Therapy team has grown by four: Sarah Coker, Lindsey Kiratzis, Sydney Davis and Christine Wilkerson. Our Physical Therapy team has grown by two: Ashley Nalley PTA and Rachel Wilkins (part time).

Jumping Jelly Beans has really grown! We are so thankful to our old and new, hard working therapists!

Be on the look out for “get to know us!” information on our therapists this year!

Being a bean is our favorite thing!
